DINNER PLANNED FOR PROMINENT GUESTS AT L. M. U.

Entertain Here Evening of November 10—N. Buckner Talks of Great Opportunity of Advertising This Section

PLANS FOR GOOD ROADS THIS WAY SOUTH GIVEN

Plans to entertain at a dinner a week from Saturday night the distinguished guests who will come to Lincoln Memorial University November 10 to 12 were made at the Kiwanis Club luncheon today noon. In addition to these guests the Kiwanians and the Kiwanian ladies will attend the dinner and the regular Kiwanis luncheon on next Thursday will be dispensed with.

The list of guests who will be at L. M. U. to take part in President Matthew's formal inauguration will probably include the following: Governor Lowden, of Illinois; General Sawyer, private physician to the president; Bascom Shump, secretary to the President; George Christian, secretary to President Harding; Secretary Davis, of the Labor department; General Miles of the Veterans' bureau; Col. Miller, alien property custodian; Mr. Yard, of the National Park Conservation; John Temples Graves, secretary of L. M. U. in Washington; Dr. Harvey Kellogg, of Battle Creek sanitarium; Mr. White, editor of the New York Tribune; Wade Ellis, assistant attorney general; and J. Wesley Hill, chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University. A great effort is being made to bring President Coolidge here, but it is very improbable that he will come.

N. Buckner of Asheville, managing secretary of the Asheville Western Carolina Motor club, was chief speaker of the day. He gave an inspiring talk to the Kiwanis club members who have already become disciples of his road building and civic advertising campaign. Mr. Buckner, who was introduced by Chairman W. V. Terrell, as the man who had done more to build Asheville than any thing else, declared that it was willing co-operation and vision and properly directed intelligence would put Middlesboro where Asheville is—or further.

"This section has more attractions for publicity than any other I know of," Mr. Buckner declared, "not exceeding Asheville. If the Big Six cities here," he went on, indicating Harrogate, Cumberland Gap, Middlesboro, Pineville, Barboursville and Corbin, "will take advantage of their opportunity they can make this one of the largest and most popular resorts in the whole country."

He went on to show that the road as now planned through here would bring from 150 to 300 cars a day all season and that the annual gross income from them would be four and a half million dollars. He told of the meeting in Pineville Monday, how it was planned to fix the road between Pineville and Corbin so that it would be in good condition all year, how the state had promised to keep the bad stretches in Laurel and Rockcastle counties in good repair, and then he read a telegram he received this morning which explained provisions for fixing the last bad stretch between Cincinnati and Miami. The telegram follows:

"Your letter received. Have good news. F. W. Webster, resident engineer State Highway department, Knoxville and Mr. Jeffries of maintenance department here last Friday. They have made arrangements for maintenance Wolf Creek Gap section beginning at once. Will use shale keeping entire stretch in first class shape, and then use patrol system in upkeep."

"FRED FISHER,

Newport, Tenn.

A. P. Liebig told some more of the Pineville meeting and plans to finance the Barboursville-Corbin road, final arrangements for which will be worked out Saturday night at a meeting in Barboursville.

An announcement was made again of the football game between Middlesboro and Maryville at 3 o'clock Friday to allow more business men to come out. W. I. Jones, field agent of J. M. C. announced their inaugural exercises November 11 and 12. Capt. Steinhour of the Salvation army made a short talk. W. V. Terrell was chairman and P. M. Parsons drew the attendance prize.

Judge Murray and H. H. Asher here Judge Murray of Louisville and the Hon. H. H. Asher of Pineville were in town on business today.

HALLOWEEN SPOOKS AND SPIRITS FROLIC IN CITY LAST NIGHT

Hallowe'en spooks and spirits did mischief in a very material manner last night as obstructed roads and other pranks in outlying parts of the city testify. The West End roads were blocked in several places by old railroad ties, logs and other obstructions.

Motorists who traveled the roads late last night and early this morning found difficulty in passing the blocked places. A few collisions with the obstructions have been reported but no damage has occurred.

A number of shots were fired by the celebrators particularly in the outlying districts. Crowds of young people, many of them small boys, held revels along the roads and displayed many pranks, though no serious damage has been reported. Crowds of spooks from the spirit world thronged the streets last night and many flaming death heads could be seen in the dark places. Various Hallowe'en parties were held in the city.

U. M. W. IS NOT OPPOSING DAWSON

Van Bittner Writes Union Men Opposition Is From Democrats, Not the Miners

The United Mine Workers of America, through Van A. Bittner, international representative, have placed their endorsement upon Charles I. Dawson, republican nominee for governor, and urged every union man to cast his vote for Mr. Dawson at the coming election.

The approval of the organization upon Mr. Dawson and his past record became known through a letter written by Mr. Bittner to George Rogers, secretary of Local Union No. 3251, at Ketle Island, Ky.

Mr. Bittner's letter discounts efforts of the Democratic party to make it appear that the stand of union labor is against Mr. Dawson and in favor of Mr. Fields. As a matter of fact, according to republican leaders, all the published statements in behalf of Mr. Fields have come from democratic individuals and not from labor officially.

The letter of Mr. Bittner is as follows:

"Your kind favor of a recent date making inquiry as to who the United Mine Workers of America should support for governor of Kentucky in the coming election received.

"In response desire to say that it is the policy of organized labor to reward our friends and defeat our enemies. During the campaigns of organization in the mining fields of Southeastern Kentucky, in 1917, Mr. Dawson whole heartedly did everything he could to assist our union. He did this at a time when our organization really needed friends.

"As Attorney General of Kentucky as Mr. Turnblazer, who is now president of District 10, can verify, we always found Mr. Dawson ready and willing to assist us in every way possible. Mr. White Moss, who as state Senator, is as good a friend as labor ever had in the legislative halls of any state, is actively supporting Mr. Dawson for Governor.

"Congressman J. M. Robison, who is a real friend of the miners' Union, is also supporting Mr. Dawson for Governor.

"Your letter received. Have good news. F. W. Webster, resident engineer State Highway department, Knoxville and Mr. Jeffries of maintenance department here last Friday. They have made arrangements for maintenance Wolf Creek Gap section beginning at once. Will use shale keeping entire stretch in first class shape, and then use patrol system in upkeep."

ST. CHARLES MAN OFFERS $25 REWARD FOR SON'S RETURN

Charles H. Redmond, state prohibition agent of St. Charles, Va., is worried over the continued absence of his son, Bill Redmond, who ran away from home last July. He is 18 years old but is small and appears to be about five years younger. Mr. Redmond who was in Middlesboro this morning says he will give $25 reward for the boy's return.

ZEV'S SUPREMACY STILL IN DOUBT

ZEV
Is Zev the greatest three-year old in the country?

The easy winner in which the Sinclair colt disposed of the much-louted English horse, Papirus, entitles him to the spotlight for a time at least.

Prior to the race with Papirus a great many turf experts were of the opinion that Admiral Gary T. Garyson's My Own should have been selected in preference to Zev. Only the convincing manner in which Zev won the big international race kept the jockey club officials from coming in for much censure.

Turf experts rate Zev and My Own as the class of the three-year old. There is one racehorse owner who disputes such an opinion. The individual is Carl Weidemann of Newport, Ky.,

KENTUCKY MEETS CENTRE SATURDAY

Teams More Evenly Matched This Time Than for Many Years

Associated Press

DANVILLE, Nov. 1.—With their elevens more evenly matched than for many years in the past, Centre College and the University of Kentucky will match brain and brawn here Saturday afternoon as the major attraction in the dedication of the Colonels' new stadium. The Colonels have returned from Pennsylvania and entered into active training for the contest this week, hoping to redeem themselves for the 21 to 0 defeat administered by the Quakers.

Centre has held the upper hand for about five years, during which time the Wildcats of Kentucky have been forced to content with three points. But the three points which Kentucky did obtain three Centre into turmoil during the entire first half of the 1922 tilt when the Wildcats held the powerfull Colonels scoreless. In the second half, due in the main to the individual work of "Red" Roberts, all American end, the Colonels piled up a score of 27 points while holding the Cats out of striking distance.

This year the Colonels will be without the service of "Red" and some of the other stars of yesterday and on this fact, plus the new life and power shown by Kentucky, the Wildcat supporters are placing their hopes. Supporters of both teams predict that this year's meeting will be the best of five years and that the team with the best staying power will win. Kentucky has been undefeated so far this season though she was barely able to stave off defeat when Washington and Lee invaded the blue grass several weeks ago. On this occasion a badly crippled team struggled for four quarters and finally managed to tie the visitors Centre has met defeat but once this year. The boys came back from the East determined to make up at the expense of the Wildcats the prestige they lost in Pennsylvania. Coaches and players from both teams have observed the workouts of the Colonels and Wildcats in some of the preliminary engagements and something new from the plays employed this season may be expected. Kentucky's head coach went to Philadelphia and watched the Colonels perform. He came back full of instructions to his charges and has ordered the practice field of the Wildcats closed to all visitors and students for the rest of the week. The Colonels are going through their formations with the utmost of secrecy.

Chairman Adams Says Hotel Rates Too High—Cleveland or Denver Best Chance

Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Chairman Adams of the republican national committee today declared Chicago has no chance of being selected as the next national republican convention city unless assurances are given that hotel rates be more reasonable than in the past. Adams said either Cleveland or Denver has a chance for the meeting.

Fire Marshall Dies

J. C. Green, fire marshal of this district, died at Pineville Tuesday, of heart failure. He had been ill for some time. He is survived by a wife and nine children.

TEMPERATURE AT 17 LAST NIGHT, ICE ONE INCH THICK FROZEN

With a temperature of 17 degrees above zero, fifteen degrees below freezing last night, Middlesboro shivered with real winter weather. An unusually heavy frost was on the ground this morning.

Ice an inch or more in thickness is reported in the city and those who failed to cut off the water outside realize that the temperature was cold enough to freeze the water in the pipes.

MEN TAKEN WITH STILL RELEASED ON $500 BOND

Sherman Baker and George Marsee, charged with having a still which was captured by officers near here yesterday, waived preliminary examination and were bound to the grand jury by Magistrate Charles G. Smyth today. The amount of their bond has been fixed at $500. Marsee has made his bond. Both men will also be held for trial in the federal court.

FIELDS CALLED ON DENIAL COOK STORY

Congressional Record Cited as Proof After Democrat Candidate Calls the Statement False

With regard to his activities in Congress in behalf of Frederick A. Cook, and the latter's claim to the discovery of the North Pole, William Jason Fields, Democratic nominee for Governor, has suffered a lapse of memory, according to a statement issued at the Republican state Headquarters.

At Russellville recently, Mr. Fields issued the statement in which he declared false a statement being made by Charles I. Dawson, Republican nominee for governor, on the stump, that Mr. Fields introduced a resolution asking Congress to thank Dr. Cook for discovering the North Pole. "The Congressional Record will not bear Mr. Dawson out as to the resolution introduced by me," said Mr. Fields in his statement.

According to Republican headquarters, if Mr. Fields will refer to the Congressional record of Monday, February 8, 1915, he will find ample proof in his own name, that he did, indeed, introduce such a resolution and that he furthermore energized Dr. Cook in the most generous terms.

The heading in the issue of the Congressional Record referred to is: "North Pole Controversy. Extension of Remarks of William J. Fields, of Kentucky." The page begins with "Mr. Speaker, under leave granted me to extend my remarks in the Record, I desire to submit, after brief observations, together with a letter from Dr. Frederick A. Cook to the Congress of the United States," and that proves the beginning of column after column written by Mr. Fields bearing upon the merits of Dr. Cook's claim to the discovery.

The Congressional record of February 8, 1915, according to the Republican headquarters will show that Mr. Fields actually did introduce the resolution asking Congress to extend its thanks to Dr. Cook for his alleged polar discovery. As proof of this, the following quotation from Mr. Fields' own extension of remarks appearing in the Congressional Record of the above-mentioned date is given.

"I maintain that neither Mr. Peary nor the Congress which has officially recognized him should be willing to let the campaign of Dr. Cook proceed further without notice. It is my opinion and my contention that the controversy should be settled and settled right. And in that hope that it may lead to that end, I am introducing the following resolution:

"Be it resolved, etc., that the thanks of Congress be, and the same hereby tendered to Dr. Frederick A. Cook for his Arctic exploration resulting in his reaching the North Pole."

I introduce this resolution in hope that it may lead to a full hearing and proper and final settlement of the question in controversy. If he (Dr. Cook) could establish his claim, that he reached the North Pole, as he says he can, and as the great number of Arctic explorers and scientists say he can, he should not only be recognized by the Congress and the country as the discoverer of the North Pole, but he should be commended by the world for the brave, fearless and untiring effort and fight which he waged for his rights.

OPERA HOUSE POLL TO BE IN MANNING THEATRE TUESDAY

Citizens of the opera house ward will vote at the Manning theatre instead of in the Moore-Rogan Dry Goods Co. building next Tuesday when they go to the polls to cast their vote for city, county, and state officers. Election of officers will be the same as for the primary election. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m.

POINCARE SAYS GERMANS MUST BE MADE TO PAY

Declares Country Forced Into Systematic Bankruptcy by Wealthy Leaders—Must Not Be Released from Punishment

REPENTATIONS EXPERTS MUST DEAL WITH GERMANY PAYING

Associated Press

NEVERS, France, Nov. 1.—Premier Poincare speaking today at the inauguration of the soldiers' memorial here stated that Germany had been forced into systematically organized bankruptcy and certain classes of the population reduced to misery for the sole benefit of the wealthy industrial and commercial leaders. For this reason he deemed it necessary, he said, to hold the Germans' pledges until France was paid in full and pointed out the progress made in the Rhine by French occupation toward resumption of economic activity. In conclusion he defined the scope of inquiry of experts appointed by the reparations committee stating it must deal only with the Germans' capacity to pay.

COOKE MAKES STATEMENT OF POSITION HE TAKES

Charles E. Cooke, candidate for city commissioner, states his position and platform as follows:

To the voters of Middlesboro:

I wish to state my position in regard to the management of our city government.

Middlesboro must go forward, therefore we must continue to build streets, sidewalks and sewers where needed. Streets must be kept in repair. I favor hiring a man for this purpose and see that he does it. Automobile license should provide more than enough money to keep streets cleaned and repaired.

Our school system which is doing more for Middlesboro than anything else must be kept at its present high standard.

A public office is a public trust and every official should give value received in faithful courteous service for every dollar paid him. My policy is to see that he does it or gets off the job.

My position in regard to the city's finance is pretty well known. An honest accounting by every city official for every dollar received; a system that will insure this, and monthly reports of receipts and disbursements published; auditing of books as required by law and a certified public accountant, and records kept so that any one can get information at any time.

I favor a monthly or quarterly conference with business men and other citizens to discuss civic improvements and to promote the spirit of co-operation, all putting together for a greater Middlesboro.

In conclusion I wish to make a statement to correct a false report that has been circulated. I am not a member or connected in any way, with any secret organization except the Masons and Odd Fellows. To this statement I pledge my honor as a man.

All of the candidates are my personal friends, therefore I must run entirely independent. I deeply appreciate the big vote given me in the primary and I again thank you.

Sincerely yours,
CHAS. E. COOKE.

THREE HURT IN COLLISION WITH PINEVILLE BUS

J. S. Parsons and a Mr. and Mrs. Collette of Harlan were injured when their car ran into the large Dodge Pineville bus on the Pineville road yesterday afternoon.

A witness to the accident says that the touring car, in dodging the bus, ran into the bus on the opposite side of the road. Mrs. Collette was thrown from the car by the shock. The three, none of whom were seriously wounded, were brought to the hospital. They left after receiving medical attention.

FIELD OR DAWSON
ON NEXT TUESDAY?

Next Tuesday the citizenship of Kentucky will go to the polls to decide whether they want a program of constrictiveness and state upbuilding to continue or whether they prefer to plunge the state back in the ranks of politics and uncertainty as typified in the Democratic nominees. These voters have but to look beneath the stir of campaign mud-slinging and study the records of the Republican and Democratic administrations to discover the true conditions. The record of Democratic administrations has been very black indeed and though the Morrow administration is under fire in some points its accomplishments are such as to make it shine beside the other.

Under Governor Morrow the schools have been taken out of politics. Do you want them back in politics? If you do, vote the theme ratio ticket. Do you want them the spoils of job-hunters? If you do, vote the Democratic ticket.

The penal and charitable institutions of the state have been taken out of politics. They have been placed in the control of a non-partisan board who achievement nobody criticizes and whose labors it would be a crime to reverse and annul. Do you want the insane asylums, the houses of reformatory, the penitentiaries, and all the wards of the state, do you want them placed on the charter to be handled over to party workers, to henchmen, to job-hunters? If you do, vote the Democratic ticket.

Do you want graft, unblushing and unashamed, to control the selection of textbooks, to settle who shall build the roads, to distribute the incidence of taxation, to feed and be fed at your cost in the good old way which made Kentucky politics and Kentucky government a scandal and a by-word? If you do, vote the Democratic ticket.

Another point to be considered is the make-up of the two candidates. We quote herewith from the Louisville Herald sentiments which we heartily endorse:

"We have no medal toward Congressmen Fields. At the start we found him repid, insipid, feeble. Nothing he happened to chance our finding. We held that if a man was in Congress for upward of twelve years consistently and remained positively unknown and unsuspected in Washington or anywhere else it was because he was that kind of man. That likewise stands. We suggested that his choice on the occasion of the lamentable death of Mr. Cattell was one that could never have been made by the Democratic voter themselves and was foisted on them to their amazement and in contempt of their preference. And that view is entitled to credit still. Mr. Fields gains no strength from his public appearance and makes no friends by his advocacy of himself."

"Former Attorney General Dawson on the other hand stands forth as a man, not only of parts and of performance but of courage. His speeches have punch. His campaign has made him a world of well-wishers. His record at Frankfort is honorable. And he has shown that he has his own mind, his own conviction, his own purposes and the means to carry them out. He is not a tool and he is not a tool. If he should be elected he will be Governor of Kentucky."

FIFTH SOURCE OF MOONSHINE

Local citizen who recently reported on moonshine in the vicinity had been to visit one of their homes. Fifth poverty and squalor unpeckable were evident at the cabin house. From out a smoke house chimney liquor, out of which we could see, sold Middleboe to health, money. It is well known that trade in alcohol beverages and other sugar in the officer's which truthfully are not very particular about the chemicals nor the purity of their product. But enough it properly made out of the moonshine is manufactured in quantities of such abject filth that one might think a degenerate would be fit to drink it. It's lack of cleanliness, fit for no other reason.

Men men are pretentious than the tools they are clean, that the conditions surrounding its preparation fit at least passably sanitary, yet, they unhesitatingly drink a vile concoction prepared with rotted fruit in place, dark, red or browned from the public eye. Not only who has made men who have no scruples about putting into it ingredients poison to the human frame. But also a person of the class, by a social scale, who, with fifth and greatest in quality.

The man above the mountains is no longer a pinto racing figure to the public eye, but rather a low down scoundrel who stops at nothing to add to his nefarious gains. The only way to control his business is to absolutely boycott his filthy product. When the demand is stopped, the supply will automatically cease.

Berton Braley's Poem

PLAIN ENOUGH

Shall booze come back? This talk of wines and beer
Is but a smoke screen. Under it appear
The old, old enemies we fought to quell
The ugly emissaries out of hell,

Who threatened all that made life clean and dear.

Make no mistake, the issue stands forth clear!

The grip of drink is what we have to fear,

Shall we again yield to its evil spell?

Shall booze come back?

Shall youth be ruined, womanhood
made drear,

Manhood grow sodden? Shall we once more rear

The shrine of booze 'mid which we used to dwell?

Think straight about this! Weigh the question well!

Advance retreat! We must decide it here;

Shall booze come back?

RINGTAIL COON PLAYS FIGHTING TELEM

It Was Ringtail Coon Itself

Nome and Ned and Will of the Wisp voice out of the water. "We just began to lose for Pekeno's picay," said Ned, "I don't see myself. Who They wanted to make sure that the are you?"

Birdie was away, off, for Ringtail Coon. "I'm a fair," said the Ringtail but came down from his tree that already, "and come to tell your right about it and stand off to fortune," the end to catch him. "My, my! That's interesting," said Pekeno. "But I like to but he doesn't," said Will of the Wisp. "Can you come again?"

"Oh, no, and I couldn't be there," declared Ringtail, or a world's come out right, the fortune won't."

"All right, I'll do whatever you tell me," said Pekeno. Picket patiently, after. He had to do it. "Come from the fortune. What's mine?"

"I always tell fortune to lookin' at hands," said Ringtail. "But as you haven't any, I'll have to take hold of one of your fins. You close your eyes tight and promise not to look, and I'll hold onto one of your fins, and see what a nice fortune I can figure shufflin' along the bank near them. And then they saw the white marks on his tail. It was Ringtail. "You think so? There! My eyes are right shut and here's my fin. Now what comes first?"

Suddenly a bright light flashed into Ringtail's eyes and a voice said, "This come's first, Ringtail Coon, you let go of Pekeno's Picket and go home where you belong." It was Will of the Wisp.

"It didn't take Ringtail long to clear out.

Actors write, in part at least, three songs of America's favorite songs, "Dixie," "Home, Sweet Home" and "Old Folks at Home." The "Song of the Year" is "Dixie," said Daniel Decatur Emmett, one of the most famous of early American composers.

While he was with Dan Bryant in 1850 he wrote "Dixie" to order. He contact promised that he'd in Dixie land what I was born in, was to write a new waltz around for the following Monday evening. Until Dixie land.

Such pressure the picture, old songs were compelled. It was Bryant that music and was compelled to make all over the country.

Tonight

Mysterious night! when our first parents knew

Thee from report divine, and heard thy name,

Did not tremble for this lovely frame,

This glorious canopy of light and dew

Bathed in the rays of the fire at setting flame,

Hesperus with the host of heaven came,

And lo! creation widened in man's view.

Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed

Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find,

Whilst fly and leaf and insect stood revealed,

That to such countless orbs thou madest us blind!

Why do we then shun death with anxious strife?

If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?

Middlesboro Choral Club Rehearsal

The regular weekly rehearsal of the Middlesboro Choral Club will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church, with Prof. Carr, of Knoxville, as the musical director. These rehearsals are interesting and the amount of progress in the musical numbers under rehearsals is increasing each week.

Hospital Nurses Have Hallowe'en Party

The nurses of the Brosheer-Brunnem hospital entertained with a Hallowe'en masquerade party in the basement of the hospital last night. The place was attractively decorated in Hallowe'en style. A number of costumes furnished the evening's entertainment. A special feature, too, was a silhouette operation. Mrs. E. R. Brown was the prize for the best costume and Lee Brown for the tackiest. Guests were: Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Brosheer, Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Brunnen, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilson, Mrs. J. A. Thammell, Miss Bernice Vaughn, Miss Nora Newell, Miss Wilma Hutchison, Miss Stella Cross, Miss Charlotte Stiles, Miss Wanneta Wester, Robert McGinnis, George Callison, Arthur Johnson, Raymond and Roscoe Collingsworth, Lee Browning, Julian Erwin, and E. C. Hodge, and Miss Frances Driesbach, Miss Kathryn Ewing, Nolan Stiles, J. B. Seur and Mr. Bell of Pineville.

Mrs. A. B. Keeney Hostess at Hallowe'en Party

Mrs. A. B. Keeney was hostess last night at her home in Bryson at a very clever Hallowe'en party. The house was beautifully decorated in Hallowe'en design, with enough spookiness to lend to the spirit of the occasion. The guests were received in the darkened house by ghosts. When the guests had all arrived they were taken in small groups to the cellar where a very realistic witch sat serving witches' brew in her cauldron while an entirely realistic cat, tied beside her, yowled mournfully. Stunts by each guest were the next feature. Five hundred was played, refreshments were served and then the guests danced till a late hour, when they were bidden farewell by the ghosts. Those present were: Mrs. Robert Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Silvers, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Collier, Dr. E. M. Harrison and Bob Ralston of Fork Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tinsley of Manning, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dupont, Miss Elizabeth Collier, Mrs. J. H. Keeney, and Mrs. A. H. Wright of Middlesboro, L. F. Mutten of Reliance, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Billingsley, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Keeney, Miss Vertie Cox and Allen Jennings of Bryson.

Dinner Dance Is Delightful Occasion

The Hallowe'en dinner dance last night at the Hotel Cumberland was a delightful occasion and the wish has been expressed by those who attended that it may be the first of a number of these dinner dances. The dining room where this was held was attractively decorated in Hallowe'en design. Watts' orchestra furnished the music for the dancers and after the dinner caps and masks were given all the guests.

Entertains With Hallowe'en Party

Mrs. G. W. Euston and Mrs. William Wallbrecht were hostesses at a beautiful Hallowe'en party yesterday afternoon at the home of the former on Arthur Heights. The house was elaborately decorated in black cats, pumpkin heads, jack-o'-lanterns, black and yellow crepe paper streamers, and all that bespeaks Hallowe'en. A spooky ghost stood in one corner of the hall and a witch in another corner. Contests were entertainment features.

Mrs. Ernest Warren and Mrs. B. B. Campbell winning first prizes and Mrs. H. Leech and Mrs. M. L. Frazier getting the booby prizes. Sarah Owlsley, Helen Buchanan, Billy Callison and Odell Easton, in pretty Hallowe'en costumes, served the guests. Little yellow baskets of candy were souvenirs.

The guest list follows: Mrs. T. G. Anderson, Mrs. W. S. Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Seales, Mrs. R. N. Price, Mrs. Shultz Gibson, Mrs. T. T. Gibson, Mrs. F. R. Whalin, Mrs. E. C. Lyons, Mrs. R. C. gacy shelf? Tuna fish, salmon, dried beef and bacon? There are more expensive meats that can be included in the array but dried beef is a good old standby that is not expensive and can be used in a variety of ways.

Whenever dried beef is used it is seldom necessary to add salt to the dish. The beef salts it sufficiently. If the beef is too salty it should be freshened carefully. Let stand in cold water for an hour. Drain and dry between towels.

Home cured dried beef makes a delicious supper meat without any fussing. Slice very thin and serve like any cold meat.

The dried beef on the market in glass jars is very good and there are many brands from which to choose. This sort is more expensive than the meat in the bulk but so very convenient to have in the house that the extra expense is warranted.

Dried Beef with Eggs

One-fourth pound dried beef, 4 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup milk, 1-8 teaspoon pepper

Melt butter in frying pan add beef, pulled into bits, cover and let cook three minutes. Add milk and eggs unheated. Season with pepper. Cook over a slow fire, lifting and mixing with a fork. When the mixture is dry and rather fluffy serve immediately as longer cooking will make the milk and eggs separate.

Macaroni with dried beef is a nourishing dish.

Macaroni With Dried Beef

One cup broken macaroni, 1 cup of chipped beef, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, coarse bread crumbs, butter.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 20 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Put half the macaroni in a buttered baking dish, add beef and cover with remaining macaroni. Pour over tomatoes. Cover with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake half an hour in a moderate oven. The macaroni will absorb the tomato juice and the dried beef adds a delicious flavor. This dish is almost a full meal itself.

Creamed Dried Beef

One-fourth pound dried beef, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour 1-8 tablespoon pepper, 2 cups milk.

Remove any stringy portions from meat. Melt butter in frying pan, add beef and cook until the edges curl. Sift over flour and stir until well blended. Add milk slowly stirring constantly. Cook until thick and smooth. Serve on triangles of toast or with baked potatoes.

Poster Contest for Schools Held by Women's Clubs

Conducted in Interest of Good Roads. With $600 Offered for Best Ideas.

A contest among the school children of Kentucky to gather ideas for twelve posters, which will be compiled into a calendar, is being conducted by the Federation of Women's Clubs for the purpose of presenting before the voters the need for passage of the $60,000.00 road bond issue with which to complete the primary system.

Every school child in the State is entered in competition for the $600 in prizes, $100 being the capital prize open to any pupil and a first prize of $25; second of $15 and third of $5, open to the children in each of the eleven Congressional districts.

Ideas, titles and originality will be judged by the jury of awards rather than artistic ability and technique. This is because of the fact that the ideas or suggestions will be worked over by a noted artist into a calendar. Distribution of the calendar is part of the educational campaign of the Kentucky Good Roads Association to show the people of Kentucky what good roads mean to a community. The clubwomen have taken hold of the contest, due to good roads being one of the cardinal issues in the Federation's programme for the year.

Announcement of the contest stresses the fact that bad roads mean great loss to the children and that good roads will mean better schools everywhere and more regular attendance throughout the year.

Attention is called to the idea that the proposed plan of building the roads will not mean any increase in taxation.

The contest closes November 20th, so that time may be allowed for producing the calendar, which is planned to make a very striking and handsome gift in a very reasonable price.

A GOOD REMINDER

Say, folks, we know that you have shamed politicos cussed and discussed for a long time, but did you ever see Old Man Politie on the stage? And did you know that he has a wife and a whole bunch of little Tickks? And did you know that the old fellow is even more hempecked than Jiggs? No? Well, all we've got to say is that you have a lot to learn about him. Now, keep this under your hat and don't talk about it unless you're by yourself or with somebody—if you want to catch a glimpse of the whole Polly Tickk family, be in school auditorium November 7. We don't know whether you are Democrats or Republicans—but we hear it rumored that Mrs. Tick has gotten the upper hand and is planning to start a Women's Party with the avowed intent of taking the trousers away from the men and making them wear dresses while their wives strut around with the captured breeches! On their arm? Of course not! They're going to wear them. Can you imagine Mrs. Polly Tickk come prancing down the street with hubby's Sunday trousers on? Well, that's just what we understand the women are planning to do. They are starting their campaign Wednesday evening. We understand they are to have a very distinguished speaker from Oklahoma who will address a political meeting that night and explain why the men should not wear the breeches. But if Madam Rumor does not play us false, they will meet with some very stiff opposition on the part of the men. We also understand they have taken some very desperate steps and have banded themselves together to protect their inalienable right to wear pants. Just what their plans are and just how successful they will be remains to be seen. It promises to be a very exciting meeting as the women are very anxious to present their arguments to as large a crowd as possible, they have requested us to urge everybody to attend. If you are not there you will regret it.

"Mrs. and Mr. Polly Tickk" a musical comedy will be presented by home talent.

THE BAT HERE TUES-DAY NIGHT AVERAGES A THRILL A MINUTE

"The Bat," playing to a large house at the Manring theatre Tuesday night, certainly lived up to its reputation as the "greatest possible mystery play in the world," and gave those who saw it enough excitement to last for days to come. All of the actors took their parts well and the spectators were left breathless at the end of every scene.

A thrill a minute was the average for "The Bat," and the gasps and the deep silences which alternated throughout the evening showed how thoroughly the actors carried their audience with them. The settings were very good and the last act set in a garter rarely evoked mystery. The storm outside, too, was so realistic that the majority of the spectators were surprised to find the stars shining when they got outside. While the lightning—and lack of lighting—was a great factor in the success of the play.

Miss Van Gorder, the incidentally lady around whom the play centers, was decidedly the best of the cast, and her clever wit and remarkable courage won her a friend in every person in the audience. Lizzie, the maid, played the comedy role and relieved the situation whenever it was apt to grow too tense, by one of her infinitesimal sallies.

To the Mother of the Large Family

IT is very interesting to know that one of the most wholesome foods that you could possibly serve is also one of the most economical. Not only does Karo cost so little but it can be used in so many ways:

For table use for the whole family and especially as a spread on bread for children; for all cooking and baking; for stewing dried fruits and prunes; and for making wholesome, pure fudge and various candies.

Also, Karo contains a very large percentage of Dextrans, one of the most important and richest of all food elements.

Let your grocer be your Children's Health Doctor—ask him for either Blue Label or Red Label Karo—both equally nutritious.

CIRRHOSIS

The person who leads the "simple life" does not fall a victim to cirrhosis, or hardening of the liver.

This trouble which always results fatally unless taken under skilful treatment in its early stages, seems in the great majority of cases to be reserved for the high flyers in eating. Other favorite subjects are the inactive "fats" and the socially convivial souls, who drink a little to keep up custom but neglect or side-step the real health of their bodies.

The disease is caused by over-eating of rich, highly seasoned foods, also by malaria, diabetes and the habitual use of alcoholic drinks. The old time drinker was a good subject for cirrhosis. The present day drinker has no time to contract the disease. He succumbs too quickly to the modern drinks. The toxic or poisonous part of alcohol is carried directly to the liver unchanged, from the stomach to the intestines.

It starts at once in its destructive work on the cells and connective tissue. The symptoms at first present nothing that seems to interfere with the portal circulation (blood circulation from the stomach, intestines and spleen, into and from the liver). Some loss of appetite, also a decrease in weight with a sluggish elimination, coated tongue and dyspepsia, are some follow-up symptoms.

The process of shrinking and hardening goes on all the time, however, until the liver is reduced in size and altered in shape. The glands and bile at last become atrophied, while near the final stage the liver is filled with fat particles.

A yearly health examination by a physician will help you to avoid any such condition.

BOY, 3, ANGERED BY SPANNING, DROPS DEAD

ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 1.—A demonstration of how anger may produce death occurred, Tuesday when Morrow Wilsey, 3, dropped dead in a rage just after he had been spanked. Physicians say death was due to acute dilatations of the heart, caused by the child's indignation.

Morrow's father paddled him in an effort to curb the boy's violent spells of temper. After the whipping he stamped his foot, staggered a moment and fell in a limp heap.

MR. GEORGE POLKERS Secy.
Local Union No. 251
U.M.W.A. Mine Workers of America
Keith, Ky.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. DAWSON:

You in your recent letter in the monthly issue of the United Mine Workers of America held up for Governor of Kentucky in the coming election recently

In a response due to you, that it is the policy of organized labor to reward our friends and defeat our enemies. During the campaign of organization in the mining fields of Southwestern Kentucky in 1917, Mr. Dawson while bravely did everything he could do to help us. He did this at a time when our organization really needed his help.

A very good friend of Kentucky as Mr. Burnham who is now President of the National Committee, we always found Mr. Dawson ready and willing to assist us in every way. He Mr. White Moss who was State Senator is a good friend of ours and had in the legislative halls of our State is actively supporting Mr. Dawson for Governor.

For your sake I M. Kotsos who is a real friend of the miners union is also on record in a letter to you that Mr. Dawson has always proven himself to be a real friend of the United Mine Workers of America. During my term of office in the National Office, I did everything humanly possible to assist me in promoting the welfare of the miners, their wife and children and I feel that the membership of our Union and all themselves of the opportunity of supporting Mr. Dawson for Governor. I am whole heartedly in favor of every honorable service the MINING WORKERS OF AMERICA TAKE OF DISTRICT NINETEEN LOCATED IN KENTUCKY WITH CERTAINLY FUNDAMENTAL A REAL SERVICE IN VOTING FOR AND ELECTING CHARLES DAWSON GOVERNOR.

I am a member of the U.M.W.A. and am voting for my highest personal record.
